

COOKIES POLICY

MCH Private Equity uses cookies to be kept in your computer. Cookies are micro-files sent by the MCH Private Equity's equipment to the User's equipment, although they do not provide information on the Username, neither any of the User personal data. The cookies used by MCH Private Equity are unable to read any data or read other existing cookies on the User equipment.

Cookies are small files to be downloaded in the User's terminal when the User browses certain websites that are allowed by the user to efficiently store and collect any information on the User's setup, browsing patterns and other technical considerations by means of which the Website may customize the online User experience and adapt it to the User profile and preferences.

Whenever the User browses the MCH Private Equity's Website, the website host server automatically recognizes the user IP address, web visit start and end time and date, as well as the information on the clicked sections. The host server needs collecting such data to communicate and send the relevant request and provide the relevant on-screen display through the browser.

The User may, at his/her own discretion, set up his/her browser so as to receive a pop-up alerting whether a cookie will be placed in the User's computer. The User may set up his/her computer to avoid receiving such cookies, but this will not prevent any access to the corporate Website information.

The cookies of this website are not used for advertising purposes. Cookies can be technical, analytical and customization cookies, as well as session cookies. We will be thus quantify the number of Users and carry out the metrics and statistical analysis of the use made by Users of the offered service, while the service may be adapted to the User profile and terminal.
